Dear Mr McLoughlin

Thank you for your telephone call and email of 19 September 2016. I note you are concerned about the University of Sydney.

What happens next

We will conduct an initial assessment of your information. I enclose a fact sheet, providing details on our role, jurisdiction and processes for dealing with allegations of suspected corrupt conduct in the NSW public sector. It also outlines the kind of material that assists us in assessing reported matters.

If you believe you have more relevant information supporting your concerns, please provide this, preferably within seven days. If that is not possible, contact me to advise of your intention to provide more information and when we would be likely to receive it.

Once we have completed the assessment process, we will notify you of the outcome in writing, with reasons for the Commission's decision. Please note that not all matters received by the Commission result in an investigation.

If you would like more information about the Commission, our investigations and other activities, visit our website at www.icac.nsw.gov.au.

Please quote the reference number above whenever you contact us.

Yours sincerely

Michael Fiorini
Senior Assessment Officer
